

Jeffrey S Piper

Biography:

Jeffrey S Piper was born in December of 1976 in Warren, Ohio. He received his Bachelors of Fine Arts from Kent State University with a minor in education in 2002. Jeffrey began teaching art classes at the high school level in 2003 in the town he was raised. In 2010 he was the first graduate student to obtain a Masters of Arts degree from the new program offered at Youngstown State University with a concentration in studio painting. Jeffrey started adjunct work at the university level in 2015 as a ceramics instructor at Mount Union University and the same year started teaching as an Art History instructor through Eastern Gateway Community College. The next year he started instructing courses through his allamatter graduate school where he teaches Art Fundamentals and Drawing through Youngstown State University.

Jeffrey's education has been concentrated in painting; however he is not shy to create in the field of ceramics and often uses a mixed media approach to all his work.

Jeffrey S Piper has been involved with many local shows and galleries, including The Butler Institute of American Art, The Hoyt, The Soap Gallery of Youngstown, Gallery 29 of Sharon, Pennsylvania, The Mac Worthington Gallery of Columbus, Ohio, and the Beta Gallery of Galveston, Texas. Jeffrey works both as a gallery and a commissioned artist.